Mexican Peons Bitter at U. S. Over Killing of Sick Cattle

MEXICO CITY. — The cause of medicine in Mexico has suffered a staggering setback as a result of the cattle-killing program.

"The gringos have slaughtered our animals," the natives cry. "Now they seek to destroy us."

Nowhere is the depressing effect of this suspicion felt more keenly than at LaDirection de Cooperation Interamericana de Salubridad Publica. This international cooperative service, founded in 1943 by the Institute of Inter-American Affairs and the Mexico health department, is concerned that the public health of the country may suffer because of hostility aroused by the campaign to eradicate the foot and mouth disease.

"The people have become very bitter," said Dr. Alonzo E. Hardison. And the hostility of the Mexican farmer, staring hopelessly at the carcasses of his cattle lying in lime pits, is directed toward everything North American and medical. The compensatory pesos are meaningless to a people who still barter goods and to whom a cow is prosperity.

Dwindling Diet Concerns People of Great Britain

LONDON. — Britain's dwindling diet is a "matter of grave concern," Food Minister John Strachey told the house of commons as potato-a-day rationing began.

Strachey said many Britons were receiving less than the 2,700 calories-a-day figure set by the government as standard for the current crisis.

"The 2,700 is an average figure," he said. "There are many sections of the population getting very much more than that. Therefore, there are many getting very much less."

Bank Service Is Cheap USE IT

A Bulldozer and operator can accomplish an unusual amount of work. The usual charge is about $12.00 per hour, and for a 24 hour day would amount to $288.00.

The interest at 6% on $1,728,006.91 for one full 24 hour day amounts to exactly the same amount, i. e. $288.00.

The daily gross income of this bank is $195.12 or approximately 2-3 that of the Bulldozer and operator.

Well, we all can't be Bulldozer owners, and we like the idea of serving you in our own way.

Maybe a loan is the kind of service that you are using, on the other hand you would be much better off if you were a Saver rather than a Borrower. We have said it before — We say it now — And we will say it again and again
